

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION

Based on the analysis of chapters 3, through intrinsic approach which consisting of characterization by showing and telling methods, plot, and setting and after elaborate on the results of the analysis with the extrinsic approach which consist of the concept of ambition, social institution especially family institution, and role models of mother, so I can conclude that the themes in this research is The Role Models Of Mother That Leads Ambition Through Family Institution. This is because of Kate's ambition who wants to protect her children. It affects to her character, so that it gives a bad effect for herself and also for the people around her, especially for her family, which because of her ambition makes the situation becomes trouble. Moreover, there is a problem with her daughter, Rosie, where Kate is confused about her daughter. Her daughter sick and should be hospitalized for a long time. It caused by the careless of other's mother who has a lot of business so her daughter becomes sick and transfer the ill to Rosie.

Kate is a person who has an ambition and she also become an example for us that everyone in the world is our ambition to obtain or to achieve something we want or dream. The moral teaching of this research is we have to control our ambition, we can have an ambition and we must also be able to reach it, but we do not need to forget about the people around us, especially our family. We also have to keep giving them attention, so that trouble like that does not happen again, because it can be bad for the family, especially for children.

According to the research, it is potential for the next research. Since there is no research that use Keep You Safe, people will be able to use this research by using another approaches such as psychological approach, history-biographycal approach, or another sociological approaches. One of the possible approach to next research is biographycal approach.
