

CHAPTER 5

CONCLUSION

After analyzing the novel, I conclude that intrinsic approach can be used to analyze The Knock. I used telling and showing method to know the characterization of the characters. There are four character that I analyze, Dora O'Brien, Dickie Cole, Frank Pargeter, and Donny Maguire. And then, I used plot through exposition to resolution. Last but not least, I used setting as a background of action, setting as antagonist, and setting as a means of creating appropriate atmosphere.

Then I conclude that the extrinsic approaches can be used to analyze the novel. I used the concept of love and sadness that leads to depression as the reflection of Dora O'Brien. The characterization, plot and setting of the movie script support the concept of love and sadness that leads to depression. After that, I elaborate between the intrinsic and extrinsic approaches to prove the theme of the research which is Love that Causes Sadness and Leads to Depression of Dora O'Brien Character in Jessie Keane Novel The Knock.

It explains that Dora falling in love with Dickie at the first sight and Dickie also falling in love with Dora. They are in relationship but Dora doesn't know who Dickie is deeply. Because of her blind love, she trapped and never can go out. The Dora sadness begin when Dickie in jailed and end with died. She lives with Donny now. Donny does violence to Dora because her brother and mother suicide because of her. Donny punished Dora until Dora get depressed because every day she feels the sadness.

The moral teaching of this research is, don't easily falling in love with someone who you don't know deeply. As Dora did. Falling in love at first sight is indeed blinding. But at least we must know him/her in advance. Dora gives her life to Dickie and she does not care that Dick is actually a bad person. He did not hesitate to hurt the people he does not like. Like he broke William's leg and eventually William killed himself. The negative impact occurred to Dora because William's brother, Donny does not accept because his brother died. Moreover, his mother also committed suicide because of the loss of William. Finally Dora must bear the consequences due to negligence that caused everything to be destroyed including her life which every day must receive Donny's cruel treatment.

According to the research, it is potential for the next research to analyze The Knock novel through other approaches or concepts. This research also can introduce the student of English Language and Culture Department about love and sadness in literary work. This research also can use as a comparison to write a better analysis.
