

CHAPTER 1

INTRODUCTION

1.1. Background

It has become the nature of the human being who has a curiosity, causing humans to always think in order to maintain his life. People are creatures that can and will always think. They will always have a curiosity desire and want to understand. Curiosity differs from other positive emotions by the strong desire to explore and persist in the activity that initially stimulated an individual's interest.

All human beings have moments of curiosity, as it is a universal characteristic that begins to emerge during infancy. Yet, individuals differ in the preference for novel and challenging activities, such as the tendency to find themselves in, or actively search for the breadth of activities that simulate their interest. Everything that happens in the world has reason, and sometimes it can not be understood by other people even though how hard we are trying to make them understand. It is better to keep it to yourself, and once you have found a person that can understand you and accept you as you are, you want them to stay by our side until the end, It happens to Elizabeth Wainwright's Character in Debbie Macomber' Novel Time for Love, when you love someone you love the most you become curious is the only thing you can do. The word love sometimes will become a nightmare for someone, when they are confusing between love and Possess.

The creation of literature is a human activity that is unique, as it is born from human's timeless desire to understand, express and share their experience. Literature is a form of translation of human consciousness and imagination by using language as a medium. In short, the literature contains parts of human's mind and ideas about things people experience. It also exhibits human's behaviour. (Pickering and Hoeper:1997:1)

Born in 1948, Debbie Macomber is a 1 New York Times Best Selling Author and one of today's most popular writers with more than 200 million copies of her books in print worldwide. In her novels, Macomber brings to life compelling relationship that embrace family and enduring friendship, uplifting her readers with stories of connection and hope. Macomber's novels have spent over 1,000 weeks on the New York Times bestseller list. Thirteen of these novels hit the number one spot. In addition to fiction, Macomber has also published three bestselling cookbooks, an adult coloring book, an adult cooking book, numerous inspirational and nonfictional book. She serves on the guideposts National Advisory Cabinet. Is a YFC (www.debbiemacomber.com)

Elizabeth Wainwright is a child of a luxury hotel owner who lives in Boston and come from wealthy family and enough to study in France, it means they are rich family everything is fine until her mother's death two years ago makes her sad sometimes and she wants to forget it by visiting San Francisco, that's where Elizabeth started all these stories with Andrew Breed Elizabeth sitting at Fisherman Warf Café She Look upset, and there she was approached by a woman named Gilly. She immediately offered Elizabeth to work as a waitress, Elizabeth did not immediately refuse and she thought this was a new experience for Elizabeth. And that day Elizabeth took the job of being a waitress, without knowing the basic work of the previous waitress before, she became close to her new friend Gilly, and Gilly is a good friend since she was in San Francisco and she was the first close friend of Andrew Breed and there was a misunderstanding about their relationship but it all faded since Andrew Breed and Elizabeth became close to each other. Andrew a mysterious man who made all women seem easy to get Elizabeth eager to live a simpler life. Andrew says he's a longshoreman, but his words and actions don't quite add up. Is Elizabeth falling in love with someone who's pretending to be something other than he claims. Excellent story of Elizabeth who escapes to San Fransisco and meet Gilly and eventually meets Breed. Elizabeth has a lot of money but Breed doesn't know it. Or does he knows, but pretending to not to know Elizabeth. Love story with a twist at the end of how Elizabeth and Breed are connected via her Dad.

1.2. Identification of the Problem

Based on the background above, there are some problems in this novel such Curious become Possess for Someone, Curiosity etc. The writer focuses on the problem which is identified based on Elizabeth Wainwright Curiosity to Andrew Breed action. Therefore, the writer assumes that there is the reflection of curiosity that causes desire to possess in Debbie Macomber' Novel Time for Love

1.3. Limitation of the Problem

Based on identification of the problem above, the writer limits the problem of Curiosity that causes Desire to Possess with theory and concepts that the writer will apply as follow:

1. Through intrinsic approaches: characterization – showing and telling methods, setting, plot and theme.
2. The extrinsic approaches which are psychology of literature and the psychology of personality: Curiosity and Possess.

1.4. Formulation of the Problem

Based on limitation of the problems above, the writer formulates the problem: Is my assumption of this novel, The Curiosity of Elizabeth Wainwright Curiosity causes Desire to Possess of someone in Debbie Macomber's Novel Time for Love, correct? In order to answer this question, the writer formulates the problem as follows:

1. What are the characterizations of this novel through showing and telling methods?
2. What are the setting and plot of this novel?
3. What are the concept of Curiosity and Possess through the characterizations, setting and plot?
4. What does the theme of this novel reinforce through the result of analysis of the intrinsic and extrinsic approaches.

1.5.Objective of the Research

Based on formulation of the problem above, the writer aim to show that the objection of this research is The Reflection of Curiosity that causes Desire to Possess of someone, Elizabeth Wainwright Love toward Andrew Breed in Debbie Macomber Novel Time for Love. The writer makes several steps as follow:

1. To analyze characterization of this novel through showing and telling method.
2. To analyze setting and plot of this novel.
3. To analyze this novel by elaborating the concept of with the characterization, setting, and plot.
4. To reinforce the theme by using the result of analysis of the intrinsic and extrinsic approaches.

1.6.Method of the Research

Based on the objective of the research above, this research is conducted by using qualitative method, qualitative method such as observation to gather non-numerical data such as concepts, definitions, characteristic etc. Those are study of literature, and interpretative character of research or analysis by collecting data which is the literature text of the entitled Time for Love by Debbie Macomber as the primary source and other related and supportive literature as the secondary resources such as E-book one of them are book by Todd B.Kashdan 2009 and book Pickering And Hoepfer 1981 and Albertine Minderop.2011

The novel as main source and supported by some literature that is connected with suitable definition or approach. The approaches are intrinsic and extrinsic. The intrinsic approaches containing telling and showing method, plot, and setting. Meanwhile, curiosity theory and possess of someone as the extrinsic approach.

1.7. Benefit of the Research

In This research is conducted to get more knowledge about the psychology theory of curiosity of love in real life. This research is expected to be beneficial for students or researches who are interested and explore more deeply about Debbie Macomber's novel Time for Love. This study is expected to be useful for the students of english department, for those who want to know more about the impact of Curiosity and Possess of someone theory in real life because it is done through a new perspective by applying the concepts of Curiosity and Possess of Someone.

1.8. Systematic Organization of the Research

Based on the explanation above, the systematic presentation of this research is as follows :

CHAPTER 1 INTRODUCTION

It consist of the background of the problems, identification of the problem, the limitation of the problem, the formulation of the problem, the objectives of the research, methods of the research, benefit of the research, and systematic organization of the research.

CHAPTER 2. FRAMEWORK OF THEORIES

It consists of Intrinsic Theoretical and Extrinsic Theoretical review through psychological approaches that includes explanation on the concept of Curiosity, Possess of Someone.

CHAPTER 3. ANALYSIS OF THE NOVEL TIME FOR LOVE INTRINSIC APPROACH

It consists of analyzing intrinsic approaches that includes intrinsic elements such as characterization and characters through showing and telling methods, setting and plot of the novel.

CHAPTER 4 CURIOSITY THAT CAUSES DESIRE TO POSSESS ON ELIZABETH WAINWRIGH IN THE NOVEL TIME FOR LOVE

It consists of analyzing the extrinsic approaches by psychological concept of Curiosity, Possess

CHAPTER 5: CONCLUSION

It consists of: an evaluation from the previous chapters and the implication of the evaluated result.