
CHAPTER 5

CONCLUSION

In this chapter, contains the conclusion of this research. In addition, the conclusion refers to the problem of research in the previous chapter. After analyzing MA movie script through intrinsic approach which consists of characterization by showing methods, plot and setting and I also analyzing with extrinsic approach which consist hate. From the results of the explanation in the previous chapter, I can conclude that the movie reflect hatred.

First, Sue Ann as the main character in the film she is a kind, protective and vengeful person. Sue Ann was born as black people, which makes her feel insecure when she is with her friends who are mostly white people. At that time, there was a group of teenagers who asked her to hang out together with them. Sue Ann was initially hesitant to join, but one of her friend, Erica, convinced her and Sue Ann agreed to join. Sue Ann thought her friend was kind and sincere, but instead she was bullied and insulted by her friend. Sue Ann became the victim of bullying at school which made her hate her friends. When Sue Ann grew up, she was reunited with her friends. The humiliation that Sue Ann received left hatred in her heart. Sue Ann intends to take revenge on her friends.

Second, Sue Ann accidentally meets a group of teenagers who remind her of her past, and it turns out that the teenagers are the children of her friends. Since that meeting, Sue Ann and the teenagers grew closer, and Sue Ann often invited them to have parties at her house. Unbeknownst to them, it was only Sue Ann's trap so she could more easily hurt the children. When she felt the time was right, she began to carry out the action. Sue Ann locks the teens in her basement, and hurts them one by one. Sue Ann takes her hatred out on teenagers who don't even know what the problem is and why did Sue Ann do that to them. Sue Ann also killed two of her friends in a cruel way for the pain that she received from her old friend.

To summarize, I can conclude that the hatred that Sue Ann harbored could be disastrous later on. This hatred makes Sue Ann an aggressive and cruel person. Sue Ann just wanted the people who had hurt her to be destroyed. According to Krech, et al., feelings of hatred are always attached to a person and he will never feel satisfied. Therefore, even though Sue Ann had killed her two friends she was not satisfied, and in the end she also hurt her friend's children.
