

---

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION

After analysing Green Book movie script through the intrinsic approach, which consists of characterization by dramatic method of showing, plot and setting, elaborated with the extrinsic approach analysis by using Human Facts, Collective Subject, and World Views concepts. It can be concluded that Peter Farelly's movie script entitled Green Book can be analyzed through the genetic structuralism. The result of the intrinsic approach that I elaborate with the extrinsic approach proves that the theme of this research is The Analysis of Peter Farelly's Movie Script Entitled Green Book Through Genetic Structuralism.

Dramatic Method of Showing is the method that be used to analyze the characterization of the characters in this Peter Farelly's movie script entitled "Green Book". It can be proven in Dr. Donald Shirley characterization that he is patient, well-educated, genius and polite. Those characterization will prove the human facts and collective subject of this film. Another character is Tony Vallelonga, he is cunning, rude, racist, and family-man. Those characterization will prove the world views concept in this film.

Plot and Setting are used to analyze this Peter Farelly's movie script entitled "Green Book". The exposition begins when Tony Vallelonga has to find a job because the place he works is being renovated. Complication comes when Dr. Donald Shirley is looking for a driver to drive him for a tour concert through the deep south in America. Crisis of this film comes when Dr. Shirley is not allowed to eat at the restaurant where he will perform. The falling action is when Dr. Shirley and Tony leave the restaurant and find some bar to eat, and Dr. Shirley is challenged to play a piano in that bar. The resolution in this film is at the end of this film, after the long tour, they celebrate christmas together in Tony's house with his family.

The concept of Genetic Structuralism that be used in this Peter Farelly's movie script entitled "Green Book" are human facts, collective subject, and world views. All of the concepts are elaborated with the intrinsic approach which are characterization through dramatic method of showing, plot, and setting.

---

The theme that proven by using the intrinsic and extrinsic approaches is The Analysis of Peter Farelly's Entitled Green Book Through Genetic Structuralism. It proven by elaboreated the extrinsic approach that are human facts, collective subject, and world views with the intrinsic approach that are charcacterization through dramatic method of showing, plot, and setting.

The moral teaching of this research is that whatever people think about us, about our race, our appearance, anything. It depends on how we response about it, just be nice and prove that we can do it. Prove to everyone that we are same.

According to this research, it is potential for the next reseearh to analyze Green Book movie script through other approaches and concepts. This research also can introduce the other student about Genetic Structuralisism. This research also can use as a comparison to write a better analysis.

