5.2 Suggestion

Seeing the results of this study, the author would like to give some suggestions that can be considered by parties who are interested in learning about abbreviations and to conduct further research on abbreviations, including:

1. It is recommended that users of abbreviations continue to use correct and standard language especially in formal situations because some people cannot understand some of the characteristics of abbreviations.
2. It is recommended that Twitter users use commonly used abbreviations because Twitter can be accessed by all people to avoid misunderstandings.
3. For students of the Department of English at Darma Persada University who want to use slang words or want to use slang as a research topic. You can find slang words on social Media like, Twitter, Instagram or Twitter.
