

CHAPTER 5

CONCLUSION

After analyzing nine songs lyrics of the “LM5” album by Little Mix, I conclude that those nine song lyrics of the “LM5” album by Little Mix reflect postmodern feminism. Those song lyrics are “Strip”, “Joan of Arc”, “Woman’s World”, “Wasabi”, “Love a Girl Right”, “Woman Like Me”, “Told You So”, “More than Words”, “The Cure”. I have proved the reflection of postmodern feminism in the “LM5” album by Little Mix through intrinsic approach and extrinsic approach. Intrinsic approach consists of imagery and figurative language. I have analyzed through extrinsic approach by using postmodern feminism by Irigaray and Cixous.

From the analysis of the every line in stanzas, I have found the answers of the research problems. Firstly, I have found six types of imagery, they are visual imagery, auditory imagery, gustatory imagery, tactile imagery, kinesthetic imagery, and organic imagery. I also have found five types of figurative language; they are simile, metaphor, hyperbole, allusion, and idiom. Almost all kinds of imagery and figurative language in nine song lyrics of “LM5” album by Little Mix with different meaning and types in each line of song lyrics in the “LM5” album by Little Mix. The relationship between imagery and figurative language in those song lyrics of “LM5” album by Little Mix tell about how the characteristic of women in their social life. So, in those nine song lyrics of “LM5” album by Little Mix have theory of imagery and figurative language, but depend on meaning in each of song lyrics.

Second, I have found the reasons of using postmodern feminism perspective by Little Mix. To find out the reasons, I have used postmodern feminism by Irigaray and Cixous who challenge women to write themselves out of the world men constructed for women. After listening and reading those nine song lyrics of “LM5” album by Little Mix. I find that “LM5” album by Little Mix were influenced by several reasons. The reasons are, Little Mix has confessed to struggling to find themselves in a male-dominated world, they want to spread messages of emancipation and self-acceptance, where the woman's lives it must be really struggle, and have the power to face numerous challenges as a woman in this world. From those nine song lyrics of "LM5" album by Little Mix it inspired woman to being a great woman, and can do anything with whatever condition as women. Little Mix is out here representing women and fighting against gender inequality.

Finally, I hope that this research can help readers and listeners to have better understanding about the meaning of those lyrics. To get good understanding about song lyric, the listener has to listen and read song lyrics repeatedly, because song lyric related to the language communicate experience and knowledge. It must involve not only intelligence but also our sense, emotion, and imagination to get intellectual purposes. Besides, it is also hoped that those song lyrics which are related to a woman life can give motivation and interventions in all aspect of women. From the songs lyrics not only the future researchers can analyze this song with theory of imagery and figurative language, but also can find other singer, methods and theories to analyze songs lyrics. I hope this research can be useful and inspiring to the readers.
