Methods of the Research

To analyze this research, I use qualitative method with the type of library research. The nature of the research in the form of analyzing using the method of data collection in the literary work. Abi Dare novel The Girl with the Louding voice as a primary source and supported by several reverences. I use two approaches, intrinsic there are plot, characterization and setting, in while extrinsic I use Simone de Beauvoir theory.

Background

Every woman wants to have the same rights as men in education and in work. In that term it is called "Feminist" where women will fight for their rights between women and men without any differences. This Research based on Abi Dare novel " The Girl with the Louding voice ". A 14 year old girl who fights for women in a small village in Nigeria, she is forced by her father to marry an old man who already has 2 wives. She wants her rights as a woman to be heard and not forced to marry. Therefore he wants to fight for his rights to school and the women in his village.

Research Finding

This research gives us something new that's rarely seen out there. By understanding the characterization and Sociological in this term paper. This research I hopefully can be useful For those who wish to use theory Simone de Beauvoir.

Conclusion

The feminist movement has a goal of achieving equality and equal rights and obligations that apply to all genders, namely women and men. Feminism is a women's movement that fights for emancipation or full equality of rights between women and men without any discrimination.
