OBJECTIVE OF THE RESEARCH

1. To explain the characterization of the main character, the plot, and the setting
2. To explain the elaboration between extrinsic and intrinsic approaches to prove the theme
3. To describe the concept of courage and the concept of exorcism

BACKGROUND OF THE PROBLEM

I have personal experience related to my research problems. My father is a good person, and he loves me and my brother very much. That night, my father suddenly turns into a violent man towards my mother. My father says inappropriate words to my mother and threatens to hurt her. The next day, my mother calls a religious leader to perform an exorcism. My father becomes a better person after the exorcism is performed.

METHOD OF THE RESEARCH

In this study, I use both the intrinsic and extrinsic approaches. For the extrinsic approach, I use a literary psychology approach and a qualitative descriptive method

CONCLUSION

After Analyzing The Conjuring 3: Devil Made Me Do It movie script through the intrinsic approach, which consists of Characterization by dramatic method of showing, plot and setting, elaborated with the extrinsic approach analysis by using concept of Courage and concept of exorcism. It can be concluded that the theme of this film is Courage and exorcism lead to tragedy

FORMULATION OF THE PROBLEM

1. What is the characterization of the main character, plot, and setting in The Conjuring 3: Devil Made Me Do It?
2. How can the intrinsic and extrinsic approaches be applied to prove the research theme?
3. What is the description of the concept of courage and exorcism

BACKGROUND OF THE PROBLEM

- I analyze a film entitled "The Conjuring 3: The Devil Made Me Do It. This film tells a story about paranormal investigators Ed and Lorraine Warren taking on one of the most sensational cases of their careers after a cop stumbles upon a dazed and bloodied young man walking down the road. Accused of murder, the suspect claims demonic possession as his defense.

IDENTIFICATION OF THE PROBLEM

- i identify in this film that Arnie's character has excessive fear and hallucinations because he dares to sacrifice his body to expose it to an exorcism. I assume that the theme of this film is courage and exorcism, causing tragedy.

FORMULATION OF THE PROBLEM

- 1.What is the characterization of the main character, plot, and setting in The Conjuring 3: Devil Made Me Do It?
- 2. How can the intrinsic and extrinsic approaches be applied to prove the research theme?
- 3.What is the description of the concept of courage and exorcism in Conjuring 3: The Devil Made Me Do It?

FRAMEWORK OF THE THEORIES

- The theories that are applied for this research is intrinsic and extrinsic approach
- The intrinsic approach: characterization,plot,setting.
- The Extrinsic approach: concept of courage & concept of exorcism

METHOD OF THE RESEARCH

- I use both the intrinsic and extrinsic approaches. For the extrinsic approach, I use a literary psychology approach and I use qualitative descriptive method
- I use data collection techniques, such as reading, observing, and understanding the text of the movie script.
- The data analysis technique that I use is to find fragments of dialogue that reflect the psychological condition of the character and carry out a qualitative description using a literary psychology approach.

Research Finding and Analysis

Intrinsic Approach

Characterization
Plot
Setting

Elaboration of Characterization and Psychological Approach

Extrinsic Approach

- Concept of exorcism
- Amorth Gabriele (2002:52–54) explained that exorcism is only a ritual of casting out the demons that disturb humans directly or through other media, which may possibly alter human attitudes and behaviors. Therefore, the Gospel verses used are those that imply the importance of baptism and exorcism so that the soul is free from the interference of the devil.
- Concept of Courage
- courage, is an intelligent disposition that allows people to respect but control the effects of perceptions of danger. (Yearly, 1990:113)

Elaboration of Plot and Psychological Approach

- Exposition
- Rising Action
- Climax
- Falling Action
- Resolution

Elaboration of Setting and psychological approach

- Setting as Background of the Action
- Setting as revealing character
- Setting as creating atmosphere

CONCLUSION

1 Dramatic method of showing is the method that can be used to analyze the characterization of the character in The Conjuring 3: Devil Made Me Do It. It is proven that the characterization of Annie Johnson is Brave, Ed is a patient, Lorraine is care, and Kastner calm and intelligent. There are three character that I analyze to prove the theme of this movie script.

2 Plot and setting are used to Analyze this movie script. The function of plot is to identify and explain exposition, Rising action, Climax, Falling action, and resolution of this film. Setting is used to find out

CONCLUSION

3 The Psychology of literature concept that I use in this research is concept of courage and concept of exorcism I merge these two concept extrinsic concepts to the characterization, plot, and setting to reinforce the theme. With this two concept I finds out that Annie is a brave person and his action is have a fatal consequences

4 After Analyzing The Conjuring 3: Devil Made Me Do It movie script through the intrinsic approach, which consists of Characterization by dramatic method of showing, plot and setting, elaborated with the extrinsic approach analysis by using concept of Courage and concept of exorcism it can be concluded that the theme of this film is Courage and exorcism lead to tragedy

LISTENING

Your scaled score is between 400 and 485. Test-takers who score around 400 typically have the following strengths:

- They can infer the central idea, purpose, and basic context of short spoken exchanges across a broad range of vocabulary, even when conversational responses are indicated or not easy to predict.
- They can infer the central idea, purpose, and basic context of extended spoken texts across a broad range of vocabulary. They can do this even when this information is not supported by repetition or paraphrase and when it is necessary to connect information across the text.
- They can understand details in short spoken exchanges, even when negative constructions are present when the language is grammatically complex, or when difficult vocabulary is used.
- They can understand details in extended spoken texts, even when it is necessary to connect information across the text and when this information is not supported by repetition. They can understand details when the information is paraphrased or when negative constructions are present.

To view descriptions of test-takers who scores around 400, see the Proficiency Descriptive Tables.

- They can infer the central idea, purpose, and basic context of short spoken exchanges across a broad range of vocabulary, even when conversational responses are indirect or not easy to predict.
  - They can infer the central idea, purpose, and basic context of extended spoken texts across a broad range of vocabulary. They can do this even when this information is not supported by repetition or paraphrase and when it is necessary to connect information across the text.
  - They can understand details in short spoken exchanges, even when negative constructions are present when the language is syntactically complex, or when difficult vocabulary is used.
  - They can understand details in extended speech texts, even when it is necessary to connect information across the text and when this information is not supported by repetition. They can understand details when the information is paraphrased or when negative constructions are present. To assess knowledge of text features, when using reading texts, see the Text Features Dimension Table below.

READING

Your scaled score is between 250 and 350. Test takers who score around 250 typically have the following strengths:

- They can make simple inferences based on a limited amount of text.
  - They can locate the correct answer to a factual question when the language of the text matches the information that is required. They can sometimes answer a factual question when the answer is a single paragraph of the information in the text.
  - They can sometimes connect information within one or two sentences.
  - They can understand easy vocabulary, and they can sometimes understand medium-level vocabulary.
  - They can understand common, rule-based grammatical structures. They can make correct grammatical choices, even when other features of language, such as difficult vocabulary, are used to connect

To see what scores typical of test takers who score around 250, see the "Proficiency Description Table." If your performance is closer to 250, you should also review the description for test takers who score around 260.
