BACKGROUND

Princess Eadlyn has grown up hearing endless stories about how her mother and father met. Twenty years ago, America Singer entered the Selection and won the heart of Prince Maxon—and they lived happily ever after. Eadlyn has always found their fairy-tale story, romantic, but she has no interest in trying to repeat it. If it were up to her, she had put off marriage for as long as possible. But a princess's life is never entirely her own, and Eadlyn can not escape her very own Selection—no matter how fervently she protests. Eadlyn does not expect her story to end in romance. But as the competition begins, one entry may just capture Eadlyn's heart, showing her all the possibilities that lie in front of her and proving that finding her own happily ever after is not as impossible as she is always thought.

SUMMARY

As explained of all methods that I use, it proves the theme of this research which is The Failure in finding true love on character Eadlyn Schreave in fulfilling Freudian Superego in "The Heir" novel by Kiera Cass.

RESULT OF THE RESEARCH

This research can give us something that we can learn in our lives. As suggestion, by understanding the characterization and psychology that exist in this term paper easily the readers can see the theme of this research. This research is useful to enrich psychology theory since there is only lack sources, which discuss about the failure to find out true love.

METHODS OF THE RESEARCH

To analyze this research, I will use qualitative methods. The qualitative method can be used to analyze the literature by using psychological approaches. I use intrinsic such as characterization, plot and setting. Extrinsic is the concept of Sigmund Freud, Superego theory.

THE AUTHOR

Kiera Cass was born on May 19th, 1981. Cass was born and raised in South California and graduated in 1999 from Socastee High School in Myrtle Beach. Cass is graduated of Radford University with a B.S in History. She grew up in the 1980s as an awkward teenager and wanted to perform, but was not sure what she wanted to do. She tried all methods of performing from acting, to singing, to dancing, but eventually realized she loved storytelling over performing, which led her to become an author.

She began writing after a local tragedy in 2007, releasing the self-published book The Siren in 2009 while she was pregnant with her son. Three years later, she got Harper Teen to take on The Selection, which came out on April 24, 2012. The second book in the series, The Elite, was released on April 23, 2013. The third and originally third book to the series, The One, was released on May 26, 2014. A new book, The Heir, about the Selection of Eadlyn Schreave (Prince Maxon and America's daughter), was released on May 5, 2015.
