The result of the intrinsic approach that I elaborate with the extrinsic approach are proves of this research is Hierarchy of Human Needs Through the Main Character's in Jerry Spinelli's Novel "Stargirl".

BACKGROUND

In this research, I interested to analyze of the main character's development in novel "Stargirl" through the concept Hierarchy of Needs by Abraham Maslow, in the reality we also can see how human needs can affect everything, human needs it is not just about fulfillment physiological needs, but there also other needs that we have to fulfill, it can imply in many conditions and moments of our life. Such as love, love also can be express from the art. We can feel the sincerity poured in this work. On this conditions of Leo Borlock experiences, I find love empowered self to develop becoming a high and more acceptance to himself. More aspects of the novel's message are worth looking further.

RESEARCH FINDING

This research intends to help developing new thoughts and perspectives towards the psychology of literature. For practical give benefits for practice problem solving especially about human needs. Also help the students to find reference in the way to do their own research. For the commons, this research wants to introduce literature as an artistic product, which many meanings consist on it to give a lesson and reference in purpose of life.

METHODS OF THE RESEARCH

In this research, I used descriptive qualitative method based on the characteristic of the research. In this research, I explore through intrinsic and extrinsic approach based on library research. Qualitative is a good approach because used qualitative approach, the issues and the subjects showed could be evaluated in depth and in detail. Research method is basically a scientific way to obtain data with a specific purpose and use. The scientific way has the characteristics of rational, empirical and systematic (Sangadji et al., 2010, p.04).

- They can infer the central idea, purpose, and basic context of extended spoken texts across a broad range of vocabulary. They can do this even when the information is not supported by repetition or paraphrase and when it is necessary to connect information across the text.
- They can understand details in short spoken exchanges, even when negative constructions are present, when the language is syntactically complex, or when difficult vocabulary is used.
- They can understand details in extended spoken texts, even when it is necessary to connect information across the text and when this information is not supported by repetition. They can understand details when the information is paraphrased or when negative constructions are present.

To see weaknesses typical of test takers who score around 400, see the *Proficiency Description Table.
