After making analysis of Sidney Sheldon's Reckless Novel of Tracy character. I conclude as follows: This novel tell about a woman that is Tracy grief to death of her child which causes by Althea then Tracy feels hate to murder which is done Althea. At first, Tracy is a great female detective in America so there is one woman working in the same place with Tracy. When Tracy out in her office and she want focus on the new family with her husband and her child. Althea also follows out from her office. She becomes a great criminal. She terrorizes to Tracy family. Tracy does not know about Althea. Althea kills Nick so Tracy feels deep grief and she feels very hate towards Althea. Tracy promises that she would bring Althea into prison but does not happen because Tracy immediately kills Althea. However, there are has conflicts in We Could Be Beautiful. The conflicts are internal conflict and external conflict.

The theme of this term-paper is 'grief and hate in novel Sidney Sheldon's Reckless by Tilly Bagshawe'. In order to prove the theme, I applied both intrinsic and extrinsic approaches. By using intrinsic approach, I analyze some character in this novel through method of characterization (First-person participant) – such as Tracy Whitney, Althea and Jeff – the analysis of setting, and I told the plot of the story from it is exposition, complication, crisis, falling action and resolution. While the analysis of the extrinsic approach, I use grief and hate.

This research can give us something that we can learn in our livesthat deep sense of grief that a mother feels when she sees her child dies due to friend's problem. A mother will not keep quiet with this incident. She will do various things to find the killer of her son.If you have big problem, you have to finish it. Or may you tell to other people. Through the way, we do not keep too heavy burden in our mind. Psychological condition gets worse because our physic has heavy burden in our mind.If we always open to other, positive thoughts from others can take effect for us. If we experience grief over the death of our loves people, we should be able to accept the fact even if it is bitter.
