

CHAPTER 5

CONCLUSION

After the analyzing, I make the conclusion from this research. I analyze the three song lyrics of Like a Knife, Stranger, and Your Call in the album A Twist in My Story by John Vesely by using psychological approach that relates to the theory of sadness as the reflection of these song lyrics. Each song has different meaning. However, they have same theme. From the analysis of intrinsic and extrinsic of the song lyrics, I can conclude the theme of those songs is the sadness expressed in John Vesely's song lyrics in the album A Twist in My Story. Vesely is a songwriter of Secondhand Serenade. He began releasing the album A Twist in My Story in 2008. In 2004, John Vesely formed Secondhand Serenade in the city where he lived, Menlo Park, California, United States. He makes song lyrics to express his own life. A Twist in My Story is an expression of the sense of heart broken after he got a divorce from his ex-wife. I also conclude some points:

First, the intrinsic approach can be used to analyze these songs lyrics. In intrinsic approach, I use the general meaning, the particular meaning, the imagery, and the figurative language. By using the imagery it can be known visual imagery, organic imagery, kinesthetic imagery. And then, by using figurative language it can be known the figurative language of these song lyrics on the metaphor, simile, repetition, hyperbole. I use intrinsic approach to explain the meaning of the song lyrics.

Second, the extrinsic approach can be used to analyze in these song lyrics. I used the concept of Parkes to explain about sadness. To prove sadness analyze, I also collaboration between the intrinsic and extrinsic analysis and find the relevance between the intrinsic elements and psychological of sadness.

This analysis explains that song lyrics are the representation of the author's psychological state which means that he feels so sad when he got a divorce from his wife. Vesely's song lyrics show a reflection of sadness. There are chronic grief and self-blame as the result of the sadness.

This reseach can give us something that we can learn in life. If we have a relationship we must be realize that we can-not always make mistakes because the mistake can damage the relationship. When the relationship was damaged, it will be making the person in heart broken because of the experience of loss of a loved one.

As suggestion, by understanding the theory of poetry and psychology that exist in this term paper easily the readers can see the theme of this research. This term paper reminds us that sadness can happen to everyone if he lost a loved one. Beside that for the student of English Department especially those who are interested in these song lyrics, this song lyrics are analyzed through of new perspective, psychology analysis or other concepts.

SCHEME OF THE RESEARCH

