ABSTRACT

This study uses both intrinsic and extrinsic methods to assess how neurotic anxiety caused depression on the main character in ‘Euphoria’ movie script . Characterization, story, and setting comprise the intrinsic technique adopted. Despite using the idea of psychology literature, the extrinsic method takes a qualitative approach to obtaining data. Sam Levinson movie script is the subject of this study. The study's findings may be summarized as follows: the elaboration between neurotic anxiety and characterization, the elaboration between neurotic anxiety and plot, and the elaboration between neurotic anxiety and setting. This movie script is about Rue benet who is being an addict since her father was passed away, how she try to fix what she have done, how she try to get back with the person she loved, and how to get her mother trust back.
