

CHAPTER 5

CONCLUSION

After analyzing and interpreting the data, the writer presents the conclusion as the final result of the study of the Hierarchy of Human Needs of the Main Character in Camryn Garre Novel "Full Disclosure". Based on the research problem and the discussion of the data presentation and analysis, the following conclusion can be described dealing with the kinds of human needs according to Maslow's Hierarchy of Human Needs and the ways for fulfilling human needs as seen in the main character in Camryn Garret Full Disclosure.

Simone a little girl who lives alone in a small town. She is alone and uneducated able to achieve the five elements in the theory of human needs by relying on courage and determination in trying. To meet the needs of physiology she tries to independently earn money. Jennie always helps her to fulfill her clothing, food, and shelter needs. When Miles comes he gives them something she has never gotten. After Simone married Miles, they live in a home that they renovated and they built a lab and a studio there.

Simone's solitude left by someone she loved make her afraid to trust someone. But Miles comes and asks her to marry him. Simone tries to be honest with her feelings and she does not want to lose Miles. Finally, Simone accepts Miles again. Simone believes that Miles will always be with him, he will always love her and will not leave her alone. Simone's life feels complete after his brother, John, returns and always comes over to her. She feels the needs of love and belonging already been fulfilled.

Simone becomes a famous writer who has published seven books. Many people appreciate Simone's work, even Simone is often invited to speak at seminars and universities. Simone died at the age of 48 years. Many people feel lost Simone, even Simone gets special permission for her to be buried on her land under the oak overlooking the sea, and the whole town comes out for the funeral. Many people feel that they have lost Simone, a little girl who lives alone. But Simone died happily and without leaving grudges. She has let her mother and her family go, briefly, and no tears.

The writer suggests for other writers to who want to analyze Full Disclosure, can also analyze by using other theories. As the writer analyzes this novel by the character which is narrative aspect and psychological approach, other writers will be able to use this novel through other aspects, and by using other approaches such as history-biographical approach or another sociological approach. Therefore, the writer hopes this research could give a contribution to literature and also to English Language and Culture students in the university.
