

CHAPTER IV

CONCLUSION

Kurt Cobain was born in Aberdeen, a typical town with sawmills in the state of Washington, February 20, 1967. Since childhood, he has shown a wide range of talent and intelligence, both in sports and the arts. Kurt came in and played a major role in baseball and wrestling team at school. He was also very fond of art lessons and liked to paint.

Kurt family's life was so grim, since his parents' divorce when he was nine years old. It marked the biggest emotional disaster in his life. Kurt so hated his parents especially when her father remarried while his mother was dating young age of only seven years older than him. Kurt was deported in the ground of that he was involved a fight with his mother's boyfriend. All of the problems were experienced when Kurt made a small inner conflict within him. Kurt who saw the truth in his family who always give the best for Kurt even made himself into something like this. Kurt confusion between right and wrong about her family led to frustration on Kurt.

That event changed the figure of Kurt became morose, closed, and hoodlums. Kurt then started to get acquainted with the world of drugs and eventually drop out of school. The road to the popularity of Kurt in the music track is not easily achieved. In the early days before success, Nirvana's Kurt along with other personnel sometimes have to cover a distance of hundreds to thousands of miles to establish a promotional concert first album, Bleach. The audience was sometimes only 20 or a dozen people. The pay is just enough to replace gasoline.

However, it is all paid off when the hard struggle Kurt Nirvana's second album, Nevermind, comes with a powerful beat that shook the international music map. The album was released September 1991 was quickly perched on top of the top of the Billboard charts, shifting his Dangerous Michael Jackson. Along with that, the popularity of Kurt and Nirvana was outstanding sticking.

At this point, then slowly began to look gloomy side popularity as experienced by Kurt. Kurt attitude and lifestyle that is full of contradictions and controversies, his involvement with the world of drugs, according to Kurt recognition was also triggered by a stomach ailment which he suffered for a long time. Kurt suffered a stomach ailment was caused due to the severe stress suffered after his parents' divorce. One of the symptoms of depression suffered by Kurt causing pain in his stomach in misery, and drug use aimed to eliminate depression suffered by Kurt. At first using the drug could reduce the burden Kurt problem in misery. However, dependence on drugs actually make him more depressed because of problems in misery is not resolved.

Despair in overcoming addiction problems and to improve the lives of their families, both in the relationship with both parents, Kurt deliver on the extraordinary depression. after a variety of ways to do Kurt to address the problems in the natural start of the music, making art even use the medicines and drugs are not also solve the problem that Kurt suffered. Finally, in early April 1994, Kurt committed suicide at his home by blowing his head while taking any medication, after a few days earlier to escape from hospital in Los Angeles, where he was treated for overcoming addiction.

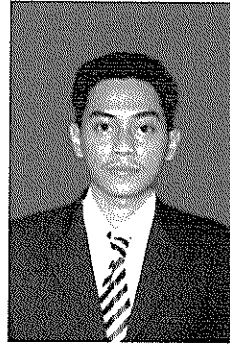

The benefits that can be drawn from this Kurt Cobain's life for people, especially the readers of this paper are the importance of the family role for someone. It begins with the divorce of parents who give rise to various conflicts in Kurt Cobain. Family is supposed to be a refuge and get affection for Kurt Cobain family be a source of trouble in his life after his parents' divorce cause depression and suicide.
