ABSTRACT

*Today, field have great impact on someone's habitus and capital. This social problem was detailed in the literature approach especially in the sociology of literature. Both extrinsic and intrinsic are the principal focus of the research using the Emily in Paris (2020) as the object. The purpose of this study, therefore, is to demonstrate that the manuscript reflects the significance of habitus, arena, and capital concepts that cause clash of cultural differences between individuals in a space in darren star's article (2018). The study employs descriptive qualitative methods. Data collection techniques use identification on selected sites, then selecting the types of data to be collected, and analyzing information accordingly for research purposes. The script has a focus on the intrinsic approach of penetration, plots, and background, and then to execute it using the extrinsic approach to Pierre Bourdieu's habitus, field, and capital. It is also supported by reviewing previous books, journals or studies, and secondary data are generated from other research or the Internet. The character Emily Cooper represents the individual habitat of the American cultural background. However, entering the social and professional arena in Paris, there is a huge conflict of values between Emily's habitat and Emily's capital with the people in this new field. This clash occurs through social conflict, cultural conditions, and Emily's efforts to gain position and recognition in the arena.*

ABSTRAK

*Di zaman sekarang ini, Arena sangat berdampak terhadap habitus dan kapital seseorang. masalah sosial ini di analisis mendetail dalam pendekatan literature khususnya dalam kajian sosiologi sastra. Ekstrinsik dan intrinsik menjadi fokus utama penelitian ini yang menggunakan Emily in Paris (2020) sebagai objeknya. Maka dari itu, tujuan dari penelitian ini adalah untuk menunjukkan bahwa naskah serial ini adalah cerminan dari konsep habitus, arena, dan kapital yang mengakibatkan terjadinya benturan perbedaan budaya antara individu dalam sebuah ruang dalam naskah serial Emily in Paris (2020) karya Darren Star ini. Penelitian ini menggunakan metode kualitatif deskriptif. Teknik pengumpulan data menggunakan identifikasi pada situs yang dipilih, selanjutnya memilih jenis data yang akan dikumpulkan, dan menganalisis informasi yang sesuai dengan tujuan penelitian. Naskah serial ini memiliki fokus dengan pendekatan intrinsik berupa penokohan, plot, dan latar, kemudian mengelaborasikannya dengan pendekatan ekstrinsik menggunakan teori Pierre Bourdieu yaitu habitus, arena, dan kapital. Penelitian ini juga didukung dengan mengkaji buku, jurnal atau penelitian terdahulu, dan data sekunder bersumber dari penelitian lainnya atau internet. karakter Emily Cooper merepresentasikan habitus individu dari latar budaya Amerika. Namun, ketika memasuki arena sosial dan profesional di Paris, terjadi benturan nilai antara habitus dan kapital Emily dengan orang-orang di arena baru tersebut. Benturan ini ditunjukkan melalui konflik sosial, adaptasi budaya, serta usaha Emily untuk memperoleh posisi dan pengakuan dalam arena tersebut.*
