

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION

After analyzing this novel I can conclude that the intrinsic approach can be used to analyze this novel. I apply showing and telling methods to know the characterizations of some characters. The characters that I analyze are Curtis Kaufman, Olivia and Kathleen. Then by using the concept of setting, especially the five functions of setting I can know the setting of this novel. Also by using the concept of plot it can be known the plot of this novel from exposition until resolution.

Then I also conclude that the extrinsic approach can be used to analyze this novel. I use the concept of guilty feeling to explain about Curtis's guilty feeling and I use the concept of hate to explain about Curtis's revenge determination. The characterizations, setting and plot of this novel support the concepts of guilty feeling and hate. I also elaborate between the intrinsic and extrinsic analysis. It proves that the theme of this novel is the reflection of guilty feeling and hate on character Curtis.

We as human being may not do what Curtis did in this novel. If we loss someone that we love, we have to be willing to accept it. We cannot just feeling grief all the time, thinking about that. Something that has lost will never ever comeback even though we are feeling guilty about that. And for something that makes you feel losing of someone, you cannot be blame of them. You must accept it sincerely. Because, if it is really their fault, they will get punishment based on the law. Even though you think that punishment is not equal with what they did, you should not feel a revenge. What that this character did for take revenge of his son's killer is wrong. If we do that, it is same as we break the law. Moreover to get pay it from take their life or kill them. It is no differences between you and murderer. You will be a criminal. And you will get punishment for what you did.

This research can give us something that we can learn in our lives. If you have big problem, you have to think clearly. You should not have to end your life easily, just to make you lose your problems. Because if you do that, it will make a new other problem for people near you. Then if you loss someone, you sould not to feeling grief in all your life. Try to accept the fact sincerely and start your life. You tell about your feeling to other people to get solution of your problem, that people may give you suggestion to make you feels better, it is better that you hold that in your mind.

As suggestion, by understanding the characterization and psychology that exist in this term paper easily the readers can see the theme of this research. They also can get a lesson and moral values from this term paper. This term paper reminds us that guilty feeling is subconscious that everybody have it. However, if we cannot control it as well, it will led to doing something that be danger for your life or other life. Beside that, for the student of English Department especially those who are interested in this novel, this novel is analyzed through new perspective, psychoanalysis or other concepts which in this study examined the potential for another concepts
